

CF
9/10/92

Moz ambush confusion

JOHANNESBURG. — Controversy surrounds the fate of two employees of a Johannesburg-based transport company involved in an ambush in Mozambique on Tuesday.

Late yesterday the company said two of its employees were killed after they were led into the ambush between Maputo and Swaziland.

But South Africa's trade representative in Maputo earlier yesterday denied reports that two SA truck drivers had been killed and said they had been only slightly injured in the attack. — Sapa